Home Depot Data Breach Could Affect 60 Million Credit & Debit Card Customers

September 10, 2014 - After initial reports surfaced last week that Home Depot may have experienced a large data breach, the chain of hardware stores confirmed those reports yesterday. The breach may be the largest single data breach of a major retailer yet; eclipsing last year's breach at Target.

Below, you'll find a video report on the breach from ABC News in Detroit. It is one of the more informative reports that we've seen and well worth watching.
