For Sammy - It's A Habit

This is another website that we feel has good materials that can be used by parents for education your children about finances.

They have a large number of products that can be purchased online - from books, music, instructional books, etc.

Here is a link to their site.

If you should purchase items from them, please share here your experiences & thoughts.